

Ακαδ. χειρ. 27.

A detailed black and white illustration of a classical bust of a woman, likely a Roman or Greek deity or noblewoman. The bust is shown in profile, facing right. It features a high, ornate collar or neckpiece with intricate carvings. The hair is styled in a voluminous, wavy manner, typical of classical art. The background consists of faint, handwritten text in a cursive script, which appears to be a letter or document. The overall style is that of a woodcut or engraving on aged paper.
